Risk Assessment

Risk Assessment

Based on the preliminary risk assessment procedures performed, we have identified the following significant and high risks which will be addressed during our audit. We have also outlined the proposed audit response to address those risks. We will update our risk assessment as the audit progresses for additional risks identified and will inform management of any additional significant risks identified.

Significant Risk Area	Proposed Audit Response
Management override of controls <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Under Canadian Auditing Standards, it is the responsibility of management, with the oversight of those charged with governance, to place a strong emphasis on fraud prevention and detection. Oversight by those charged with governance includes considering the potential for override of controls or other inappropriate influence over the financial reporting process.</li> <li>Management override of controls is present in all entities. It is a risk of material misstatement resulting from fraud and therefore is considered as a significant risk.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We will discuss fraud with management, the Municipal Council and others.</li> <li>We will test the appropriateness of journal entries recorded in the general ledger and other adjustments made in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.</li> <li>We will evaluate the business rationale for any significant unusual transactions.</li> <li>We will determine whether the judgments and decisions related to management estimates indicate a possible bias, which will include performing retrospective analysis of significant accounting estimates.</li> </ul>
Cut-off of certain types of revenues and expenses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The cut-off of certain types of revenues and expenses, such as capital transactions, is inappropriate.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We will perform detailed testing of accounts receivable, accounts payable and deferred revenues.</li> <li>We will perform tests on subsequent cash receipts and disbursements testing.</li> <li>We will audit the assumptions related to accounts receivable, accounts payable and deferred revenues.</li> </ul>
Reserves and reserve funds <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Transfers are not approved or approved transfers are not accounted for.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We will do substantive testing of the reserves and reserve funds continuity schedule and of material transactions to determine if transfers are in accordance with the Municipal Council's approvals and/or legislative requirements.</li> </ul>

Completeness of certain types of revenues <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• We have evaluated the revenue transactions, and we have concluded that there is a significant risk that revenues relating to sewer services and garbage and recycling collection have not all been invoiced and/or recorded.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• We will audit a selection taken from independent source records in order to ensure that the revenues were properly invoiced and recorded.</li> </ul>

Audit Materiality

Materiality is an important audit concept. It is used to assess the significance of misstatements or omissions that are identified during the audit and is used to determine the level of audit testing that is carried out. Specifically, a misstatement or the aggregate of all misstatements in consolidated financial statements as a whole (and, if applicable, for particular classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures) is considered to be material if it is probable that the decision of the party relying on the consolidated financial statements, who has reasonable understanding of business and economic activities, will be changed or influenced by such a misstatement or the aggregate of all misstatements.

The scope of our audit work is tailored to reflect the relative size of operations of the Municipality and our assessment of the potential for material misstatements in the Municipality's consolidated financial statements as a whole (and, if applicable, for particular classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures). In determining the scope, we emphasize relative audit risk and materiality, and consider a number of factors, including:

- The size, complexity, and growth of the Municipality;
- Changes within the organization, management or accounting systems; and
- Concerns expressed by management.

The scope of our audit work is tailored to reflect the relative size of operations of the Municipality and our assessment of the potential for material misstatements in the Municipality's consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Judgment is applied separately to the determination of materiality in the audit of each set of consolidated financial statements (and, if applicable, for particular classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures) and is affected by our perception of the financial information needs of users of the consolidated financial statements. In this context, it is reasonable to assume that users understand that consolidated financial statements are prepared, presented and audited to levels of materiality; recognize uncertainties inherent in the measurement of amounts based on the use of estimates, judgment and consideration of future events; and make reasonable economic decisions based on the consolidated financial statements. The foregoing factors are taken into account in establishing the materiality level.

Materiality for the current and prior year is detailed in the table below. The basis used for our calculation is 4% (4% in 2023) of budgeted expenses.

2024 Materiality	2023 Materiality
$775,000	$850,000

Various consequential amendments resulting from the issuance of Section PS 1202 have also been issued. These include various Sections and Guidelines of the PSA Handbook that have been withdrawn or amended.

Appendix C – The Audit Process

Our audit process focuses on significant risks identified during the pre-planning and planning and risk assessment stage, ensuring that audit procedures are tailored to your specific circumstances and appropriately address those risks.

The Municipal Council is responsible for approval of the consolidated financial statements and Municipality policies, and for monitoring management's performance. The Municipal Council should consider the potential for management override of controls or other inappropriate influences, such as earnings management, over the financial reporting process. The Municipal Council, together with management, is also responsible for the integrity of the accounting and financial reporting systems, including controls to prevent and detect fraud and misstatement, and to monitor compliance with relevant laws and regulations.

Effective discharge of these respective responsibilities is directed toward a common duty to provide appropriate and adequate financial accountability, and quality financial disclosure.

Key responsibilities of MNP and management are outlined in the Engagement Letter (see attached).

Our overall audit strategy is risk-based and controls-oriented. Assessment and identification of risk is performed continuously throughout the audit process. We focus on the risks that have a potential impact on the financial accounting systems and subsequent financial reporting.

Our overall audit strategy does not, and is not intended to, involve the authentication of documents, nor are our team members trained or expected to be experts in such authentication. Unless we have reason to believe otherwise, we accept records and documents as genuine. The subsequent discovery of a material misstatement resulting from fraud does not, in and of itself, indicate a failure to comply with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards.

Audit Procedures

To meet our responsibilities in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, our audit examination includes:

- Obtaining an understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of internal controls, in order to identify and assess the risk that the consolidated financial statements contain material misstatements due to fraud or misstatement;
- Assessing the design and implementation and examining, on a test basis, the key controls over significant transaction streams and over the general organizational and computer environments;
- Assessing the systems used to ensure compliance with applicable legislative and related authorities pertaining to financial reporting, revenue raising, borrowing, and investing activities;
- Examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements;
- Assessing the appropriateness and consistency of accounting principles used and their application;
- Assessing the significant estimates used by management; and,
- Assessing the entity's use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.

As part of our planning process, we will also undertake to inform Municipal Council of concerns relating to management's implementation and maintenance of controls, and the effects of any such concerns on the overall strategy and scope of the audit. These concerns might arise from the nature, extent and frequency of management's assessments of controls in place to detect fraud and misstatement, and of the risk that the consolidated financial statements may be misstated; from a failure by management to appropriately address significant deficiencies in controls identified in prior audits; and, from our evaluation of the Municipality's control environment, and management's competence and integrity.

Overall Reliance

Control Reliance Level	Low/None	Moderate	High
Description	Where we cannot rely on controls because they are weak or absent, or where it is deemed to be more efficient to carry out a high level of direct substantive tests of details. Audit evidence is primarily obtained through detailed verification procedures and sufficient substantive tests of details.	Where there are some deficiencies in systems application or procedural controls, or where it is deemed to be inefficient to test systems application controls, but where we can test and rely on the management monitoring systems in place to detect and correct material misstatements in the financial reporting systems. Testing of controls is supplemented with a moderate level of substantive tests of details.	Where a high degree of control is in place in the areas of management monitoring controls AND systems application and procedural controls. Our audit work focuses on testing both management monitoring and systems application and procedural controls, and is supplemented with a low level of substantive tests of details.
Planned Reliance		—	—

For December 31, 2024, audit, we are planning to place no reliance on the Municipality's controls. This level of reliance is consistent with the prior year, and will involve mainly substantive tests of details.

The amount of substantive work will be reduced for cycles where there are controls in place that MNP can test and rely on.

As part of our audit work, we will update our understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of internal controls relevant to our audit of the principal transaction cycles, sufficient to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements resulting from fraud or misstatement. This will be accomplished through inquiries with management and others within the entity, analytical procedures and observation and inspection. Furthermore, we will consider whether effective controls have been established to adequately respond to the risks arising from the use of IT or manual systems and test the operation of those controls to an extent sufficient to enable us to reduce our substantive work. Our review of the Municipality's controls will not be sufficient to express an opinion as to their effectiveness or efficiency. Although we will provide the Municipal Council with any information about significant deficiencies in internal control that have come to our attention, we may not be aware of all the significant deficiencies in internal control that do, in fact, exist.

Inherent Limitations in the Auditing Process

An auditor cannot obtain absolute assurance that material misstatements in the consolidated financial statements will be detected due to factors such as the use of significant judgment regarding the gathering of evidence and the drawing of conclusions based on the audit evidence acquired; the use of testing of the data underlying the consolidated financial statements; inherent limitations of controls; and, the fact that much of the audit evidence available to the auditor is persuasive, rather than conclusive in nature.

Because of the nature of fraud, including attempts at concealment through collusion and forgery, an audit designed and executed in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards may not detect a material fraud. While effective controls reduce the likelihood that misstatements will occur and remain undetected, they do not eliminate that possibility. Therefore, the auditor cannot guarantee that fraud, misstatements and non-compliance with laws and regulations, if present, will be detected when conducting an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards.

The likelihood of not detecting material misstatements resulting from management fraud is greater than for employee fraud, because management is in a position to manipulate records, present fraudulent information or override controls.

We will inform the appropriate level of management or the Municipal Council with respect to identified:

- Misstatements resulting from errors, other than clearly trivial misstatements;
- Fraud, or any information obtained that indicates that fraud may exist;
- Evidence obtained that indicates non-compliance or possible non-compliance with laws and regulations, other than that considered inconsequential;
- Significant deficiencies in the design or implementation of controls to prevent and detect fraud or misstatement; and
- Related party transactions that are not in the normal course of operations and that involve significant judgments made by management concerning measurement or disclosure.

Our concern as auditors is with material misstatements, and thus, we are not responsible for the detection of misstatements that are not material to the consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Appendix D – Auditor Independence

Auditor Independence

An essential aspect of all our services to the Municipality is an independent viewpoint, which recognizes that our responsibilities are to the members. While the concept of independence demands a questioning and objective attitude in conducting our audit, it also requires the absence of financial or other interests in the Municipality. In accordance with our firm's policy, and the Code of Professional Conduct, which govern our profession, neither MNP nor any of its team members assigned to the engagement or any of its partners, are permitted to have any involvement in or relationship with the Municipality that would impair independence or give that appearance. As auditors, we subscribe to the highest standards and are required to discuss the auditor's independence with Municipal Council on an annual basis. Under the standard an auditor shall:

- Disclose to the Municipal Council in writing, all relationships between the auditor and the Municipality that in the auditor's professional judgment may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence;
- Confirm in writing that, in its professional judgment, MNP is independent within the meaning of the Code of Professional Conduct of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Ontario; and
- Discuss the auditor's independence with the Municipal Council.

We confirm that we are independent with council and management. We will reconfirm our independence in a letter with the auditor's findings and the consolidated financial statements.

During the course of the audit, we will communicate any significant new matters that come to our attention that, in our professional judgment, may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence.
